OMICAGO, Sept. 18.—Fine weather brought a large growd to the Harlem track to-day and it was treated to a first-class buriesque councily in the form of a steepiechase. Four horses started in the event not one of which went the course without mishap. Capt. Conover and Dick Furber went down in a heap carly in the contest. This left Sahity galloping ten lengths in front of Mazo. Sainily also came to grief, however, and Mazo undertook to cover the fourney alone. This he did after once refusing the last lump. The others were remounted and straggled in several minutes apart. It was perhaps the biggest farce ever witnessed locally Favorities were dumped with regulars, as has been the case all week, only two taking uown purses. Summary First Race—Six Iurlongs—C. B. TRAVIS DEFEATS DOUGLAS.

REMARKABLE CONTEST IN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Thirty-eight Holes Required Before the (hampion Pulls Off the Victory -Egan, the Chicago Lad, Beats Seeley Eastly in the Other Semi-Final Match.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 18 .- A brilliant finsh occurred in the semi-finals for the championship to-day between Waiter J. Travis, the champion, and Findley Douglas, the former holder of the title. They played no less than thirty-eight holes store Travis could gain the victory. This was an unprecedented match in an American championship semi-final and it recalls the great contest between Freddie Talt and Harold Hilton in the championship abroad two years ago. The other half of the semi-finals resulted in the victory of Walter J. Egan, the Chicago lad, over harles H. Seeley, the Connecticut State ampion. The two Walters will meet in the final round to-morrow.

The assemblage at the links to-day was large and enthusiastic. The scene during the long match between Travis and Douglas was quite picturesque, the crowd, over and strong, winding in a long line in the wake of the two golfers, and at times breaking forth into applause. On the ag game Travis had the better distance, his direction was not so good as Douglas's, although he seemed to put quite up to his usual game. Putting was Douglas's one great fault, and to it may be ascribed his defeat.

Setting out in the morning they halved two holes in a brace of 4s, but Douglas took the third handily enough, for Travis supped up on an easy put. A half in 4 followed, then one in 6, and then the sixth ole was halved in 3. On the next green Douglas lost the lead. Travis taking the in 5 to 6, a very clever pitched up pproach, getting the ball to within eight et of the cup and making up for a rather weak drive Douglas missed a chance on the green, playing the eighth; a half in perfect 3 was recorded, and another was the story at the ninth, leaving them all square with a 39 on each card weak drive by Travis gave the tenth Douglas. The eleventh was halved in Then Travis evened up matters by nning the twelfth in 4 to 5. Douglas n this green had too much to do. Now Travis won twice in succession, gaining a infortable lead that was destined to give lougias much trouble to overcome. On the urteenth Douglas threw away his chances through the green. The tee shot had been trapped, and in playing out Douglas only pitched it into the second trap. The fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth holes were all halved in good-looking style, leaving Travis 2 up at the end of the morning

Setting out in the afternoon a half in five was recorded, Douglas losing a chance on the green when he seemed to have the hole safe. The second hole of this round went to Travis in 4 to 5, through the aid went to Travis in 4 to 5, through the aid of a long put. On the next hole Douglas had a stymic and it was halved in five. A half in four followed, and then came a spirited burst on the part of the Scotch tau-tht player. He took only twenty-one steks for the five holes, so that at the twenty-seventh hole the match was all square once more. Douglas had gone out in forty-six, while Travis needed forty-type.

Beginning the inward journey Douglas Beginning the inward journey Douglas get a 8 while Travis slipped up on his put for the half. The Scotchman's lead did not last long for the next hole went to Travis in 3 to 4. They halved the next in an indifferent 6, each needing 3 puts. A brace of fours on the next redeemed matters, and then came two more pair of holes in good golfing figures, a 5 and a 4. Travis on the thirty-fifth hole pitched his approach shot within a vard of the cup, winning in 3 to 4. This made him 1 up and only 2 to play and his chance of winning now seemed bright. Douglas showed emed bright. Douglas showed uck, however, and sent a perfeet drive from the next tee, one of the very best of the match. His second shot with the iron was also an exquisite one and the ball held the green. Travis was over the ball held the green. Travis was over the green on his second and he also missed the approach put, failing to get up to the hole. Amid great applause Douglas won in 4 to 5 and they faced the home green with the match again all square. Their ten shots were good ones, but Travis flubled an iron shot, yet as Douglas was over on his approach put they halved in 5. Starting for the thirty-seventh hole. They are the same of the same of the same of the transparence of the transparence of the same o

Suglas sliced his drive into the meadow grass off the course and he failed to get to the green in playing out, while Travis, with two fine shots, was on the green in two. Douglas played a neat mashie shot, which dropped the ball close to the cup. ike and for once he putted in an inspired Many in the "gallery" had not followed this leciding hole, simply because they had seen walked off their feet. It was a city sight to see the two lads running ross the green, while 500 women and men see on the clubbouse veranda and cheered

Perhaps the finest part of the match was e plucky manner in which Douglas tried carry the sand bunker with the second reed in carrying it on any of his efforts, gave the golfers who followed a chance applaud his daring methods. By great l lack each time his hall was trapped this hazard Douglas got out and made green with his iron. Following is the

The two players walked off together to Dougles clubs a ere carried by the former head idle of the club, who is now a profestal while Trayis depended on one of the hand, is at the top of his game and it is possible that he may stir up Travis somewhat to-morrow morning when they meet in the final round. Egan has a pretty style, but his prominence is a great surprise to his friends from the West, who did not expect that he would outlast W. Holabird, Jr., or Phelps B. Hoyt. As usual Mr. Rgan, Sr., was an interesting spectator of his boy's play, but from distant points of vantago. He has a theory that he might upset the nerves of his son should he follow too closely after him. Seeley, before leaving Wee Burn, discarded his play clubs, for the reason that he could get no distance. With a new kit he has done no better here and he now regrets that he did not depend on his old clubs. Egan won by 11 up and 10 to play. The cards were:

Egan ... Seeley . Summary of the matches follows:

JEFFERSON, N. H., Sept. 18.—The Wembeck Golf clubs open tournament ended to-day with record breaking golf. The Waumbeck and Jeffersons cups were won by 35 hole finals. James S. Asphalt targets gave way to live birds yesterday at the forty-third annual tournament of the New York State Association for the Protection of Fish and Game at Interstate Park. The attendance was very large and among those who applauded the many good kills were Sir Henry Thynnie, C. B. and Major J. K. Millner of the Irish C. B. and Major J. K. Millner of the Irish Rifle Team.

The feature of the day was the forty-third annual competition for the Dean Richmond trophy.

In the morning the convention of the association ended. A new constitution and by-laws were adopted. The decision to hold the next annual shoot at Rochester was approved and the following officials were elected.

President, John P. Reenan, New York County Oun Club: Vice-President, Dr. H. S. Weller, Rochester Rod end Gun Club: Freasurer, A. G. Courtney, Syracuse Gun Club: Secretary, F. A. Amicilia. pesterday afternoon, the ring requiving a number of hard joits in consequence. The weather was perfect for the sport and the track in fair condition, though by no means fast. The Russet Handicap for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and a haif on turf was the feature, even though it was the last event on the card. It was a lively betting proposition, the talent finding it a hard matter to pick the winner. Advance Guard, with Spencer having the mount, opened favorite at 7 to 8, with Watercure at 9 to 8, First Whip at 5 to 2 and Black Dick at 8 to 1. Both Advance Guard and Watercure receded two points, as the betting on Pirst Whip and Black Dick was strong enough to keep the former's price steady and reduce the atter's to sizes.

Spencer took Advance Guard out in front

pace until the back stretch was reached. Then Spencer sent the favorite along at a rapid gait, leading by a length to the far turn. The others were neck and neck, O'Connor keeping a firm hold on Green B. Morris's gelding. When the stretch was before them Vatercure was let down and in a jiffy he had taken the lead from Advance Guard. Spen-oer immediately went to the whip as McOue was coming fast with First Whip, even though the latter carried top weight. Watercure had the race so completely at his mercy when he got to the last sixteenth that O'Connor eased him up and the gelding won easily by a length. Advance Guard, still under punishment, was two lengths better than First Whip, who beat Black Dick a similar distance. This was the second triumph of the day for Mr. Morris, as his big Candlemas colt, Homestead, captured the Golden Rod Stakes Homestead, captured the Golden Rod Stakes for two-year-olds with liberal odds against him. This event was at six and a half furiongs on turf Cameron was a 9 to 10 favorite, with Dixieline second in favor at 9 to 5. Homestead was third choice and well backed at 6 to 1. Peninsula and Shandonfield did not cut much of a figure though the former was supported some in the "show" books. O'Connor lost no time with Cameron when the flag fell and made the pace. The Meddler colt had speed enough to lead by a clear two lengths at the half mile. with Homestead second, a length in front of Shandoufield and Penineula, heads apart. Dixieline bringing up the rear. Coenran used better judgment with homestead than nor did with Cameron, with the result that Mr. Morris's coit assumed the lead at the head of the stretch before O'Connor really knew what was up It was a flerce drive for both after that, Homestead being the winner by a half a length with Peninsula third, a length away. Homostead's time, 121, is a length away. Homestead's time, 121, is a new record for the course, the former figures being 121-5, made in 1897 by Easter Gift with 110 pounds.

The $1,200 handicap for three-year-olds and upward, at one mile and a furlong, was another case of close figuring for the talent. There were only three starters. Carbuncle opened a 4 to 5 favorite, but receded to evens, as St Finnan was reduced from 8 to 5 to 7 to 5. Alsike was a 6 to 1 outsider. Alsike set the pace to the quarter pole, where St Finnan took up the task and never was headed. McCue whipped Carbuncle for the last furlong, but Tom Healey's gelding was unable to get up and St Finnan won in a drive by half a length, much to the delight of his owner, like Clancy, and his wide circle of acquaintances.

Mike Clancy, and his wide circle of acquaintances.

There was a delay of three-quarters of an hour at the post before the first race was started. The distance was five furious. There were sixteen maiden two-year-old fillies to be sent away, and half of them were so crazy-headed that they tried their best to kick the legs of one another. The starter's patience was almost exhausted when he finally caught them all in motion and let them go. Rockwater, the 1s to 5 favorite, led all the way and won in a gallop by two lengths in 101 4-5 August Heimont's Octoroon, 8 to 1, was second, two lengths in front of W. U. Whitney's lady Godiva.

Ten selling platers went to the post for the second race at seven furlengs. Bold Knight, even money favorite, was the winner by a length, Willie Sims having the leg up. Siy, to 1, beat Vesuvia, 12 to 1, a head for the place.

Jimmy McCormick cut loose a good thing in Lone Fisherman, 5 to 1, in the fifth race, for maidens, at one mile. Arak, the 13 to 5 favorite, was a ruck horse from start to finish. Icicle and Irene Lindsey made the pace to the stretch, where both stopped Lone fisherman defeated W. C. Whitney's Rowdy by a length, with Lamp O'Lee beating out Icicle for third money by a head. BROOKLYN, 5. PITTSBURG, 3 -PIRST GAME Hanlen's strong brigade by bunching hits in the first and eighth innings. In not one of the other innings did the locals make a hit, but the two innings that were productive of safeties sufficed for the undoing of the leaders. The eighth inning was exciting. The Pirates forged abead on two-baggers by Bransfield and Ritchey and O'Connor's sizzling single. Then the Brooklyns came in and gave a beautiful exhibition of scientific hitting. Kitson began the raily and Keeler, Sheckard and Delan placed the ball out of reach of the clutch of eager Pittsburg hands. These hits, with Kelley's neat sacrifice and Daly's fly to Clarke, were accompanied by three runs. The score:

HARVARD MEN EXPLAIN.

Willing to Hold Trials for International Games in This City. BOSTON, Sept. 13 - Harvard men are greatly wrought up over stories that have come from Yale, whether from official of from unofficial sources, which put Harvard, in a false light regarding the trials for the international games. Ex-Capt. John Hallowell, of the who is one of the members of the committee in charge of the games, said to-day: "It is very unfortunate that any mice understanding has been possible, and und doubtedly we should have been able to adjust our affairs with Yale had not at much been published that makes it abso lutely out of the question not to present our position. Harvard did not agree to gd to New Haven for reasons that are obvious to any one who knows what an advantage we would be conceding Yale. We sug-gested Worcester because it was central and the travelling distance of each team gested workester because it was central and the travelling distance of each teams would be reduced.

'If Workester cannot be agreed upon Harvard is willing to hold trials in New York, although even this would give Harvard several hours the longer railway journey. This, however, is certain—Harvard neves will agree to hold the trials at New Haven.

'Yale from the first has not desired trials. At the first meetings of the committee, Yale proposed that the team be picked from the Mott Haven and dual game winners, and on the form they showed at that time. Later Capt. Sheldon agreed to hold the trials, although asking that such men as Beardman, Clapp. Hargrave, Spraker and others be entered in the respective events without meeting our men previously.

'There is no need for further discussion, but if a speedy agreement cannot be reached the matter will be taken before the Games Committee and the place for the trials determined. Mr. Wendell, Mr. Morison and myself are three Harvard members of this committee, while Mr. Brooks, Mr. Camp and Mr. Sheldon represent Yale.

Harvey Parker, the Brockton wrestler, after quite a campaign abroad, will soon return. He is booked to leave London in about one week's time. During his trip to the other side Farker has made a record. He has met a number of clever men and de-feated them handily. In some instances Parker has to give away weight.
